Former AutoNation Vice President, Christopher Glenn, Joins motormindz as Senior Partner

Detroit, MI (August 16 2016) – motormindz, Inc., a global automotive professional services and technology accelerator, announced today that former AutoNation officer and Vice President, Christopher Glenn will join their industry-recognized team as a Senior Partner

An industry veteran with over 33 years in Automotive retail, Glenn served in a variety of roles at the store, market, region and national leadership levels in both variable and fixed operations. In his most recent role with AutoNation, Glenn served as vice president of service operations for over 230 dealerships, comprising 32 brands.

“We are delighted to have Chris join our rapidly growing team of recognized industry thought leaders. Chris brings a very strong retail automotive background and fresh thinking to his role. He epitomizes the core values of what we represent as an organization along with an endless commitment to delivering new, disruptive solutions and technologies to the automotive industry,” said Jeff Van Dongen, Founder & CEO of motormindz.

Glenn joins a team of automotive notables at motormindz, including the likes of John Felice from Ford Motor Company, Don Johnson from General Motors Company, Ray Fisher from the Chrysler Group, Alan Harris from BMW, and many more. Glenn will help play a key role in motormindz’ objective of identifying key critical challenges within the industry in order to find, assess and deliver the most viable solutions to key decision makers.

In a statement, Glenn said. “I am excited to join a team of solid professionals with a shared vision for disruptive solutions, entrepreneurship and integrity. It’s a great opportunity to continue to bring promising technologies to the market place, ultimately benefiting the manufacturer and retail network.”
